The Community College of Rhode Island Department of Athletics, its student-athletes, coaches and support staff represent some of the best of what the college has to offer. Each and every season CCRI student-athletes put on the Knights uniform, step on to the court, field or track, and compete. They represent the college not only through their performance, but also in spirit. Their accomplishments, based on a commitment to academics and athletics, make us proud.

During the 2014–15 academic year, many student-athletes represented CCRI with distinction at the national level. Several teams were represented at regional, district and national level competitions. These experiences are more than just wins and losses in the record books. They are examples of CCRI student-athletes achieving great things on and off the field. In the classroom, they discover a new subject, a career field and a love of learning. In athletics, they acquire the discipline and commitment it takes to reach their goals. Under the guidance of knowledgeable and caring coaches, they learn the values of camaraderie, commitment to a common goal and how to win or lose with grace.

If you are considering CCRI as a prospective student-athlete, I encourage you to explore what we have to offer academically and athletically. If you’re simply a fan of the college, I encourage you to attend one of our games and cheer on the local team. Go Knights and Lady Knights!

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Athletics is not about winning. Rather, it is about testing one’s character to the limits. To dig deep when the chips are down and the time on the clock is running out. As Olympic wrestler Dan Gable once said, “Gold medals aren’t really made of gold. They’re made of sweat, determination, and a hard-to-find alloy called guts.”

The Community College of Rhode Island Department of Athletics provides countless opportunities for student-athletes to better themselves and face challenges with strength and resolve. While they are not competing for a gold medal, the lessons they learn being part of a team and competing are a valuable component of their CCRI experience. They are lessons that prepare them to succeed in the classroom, a professional career and beyond.

CCRI athletic teams boast a tradition of excellence with nearly 5,400 victories, 213 All-Americans and 819 All-Region selections. During the 2014–15 academic year, several teams reached the playoffs in their sport, representing the college at the regional, district and national levels. The foundation behind those outstanding accomplishments is built on an academic support program and the dedication of CCRI coaches.

Whatever your athletic dreams might be, consider pursuing them at CCRI and join our tradition of success.

Director of Athletics
ABOUT CCRI

The Community College of Rhode Island opened its doors in 1964 with 325 students in temporary space on Promenade Street in Providence as Rhode Island Junior College. Today, with four campuses throughout the state, CCRI enrolls an average of almost 18,000 credit students each semester, making it the largest comprehensive community college in New England. Thirty-three percent of its students identify themselves as part of a minority group, many of whom are the first in their families to attend college.

Accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, CCRI offers more than 80 degree and certificate programs in the arts, business, computer studies, engineering, health sciences, human services, liberal arts and science departments taught by faculty who are experts in their field. Each year, Rhode Islanders fill more than 30,000 seats in our professional development, skill enhancement, job retraining and noncredit personal enrichment courses offered by CCRI’s Center for Workforce and Community Education.

CCRI students are active participants in campus life and in the community. The college offers a varsity athletic program with 12 sports and a diverse selection of student clubs and organizations, including student government. Annually, students, faculty and staff volunteer for a variety of Rhode Island nonprofit organizations, making life better for those less fortunate.

Since its inception, CCRI has graduated nearly 66,000 students, with 95 percent of them living and working in Rhode Island. The college is the No. 1 provider of nurses and other health care workers in the state. Annually, more than 1,000 CCRI students transfer to Rhode Island College and the University of Rhode Island to continue their education. CCRI’s tuition is the most affordable in Rhode Island. A full-time student pays about half, or less, of tuition and fees charged at any other college in the state. According to a recent survey given to exiting students, when graduates were asked, “Would you recommend CCRI to a friend or family member?” nearly 99 percent said yes. By preparing students for continued education or to enter the state’s work force, the Community College of Rhode Island provides its students with the opportunity to change their lives and achieve their dreams.

CCRI’S STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM (SAASP)

The Student-Athlete Academic Support Program at the Community College of Rhode Island provides a support system for academic success in college. This mandatory program prepares student-athletes for transfer to four-year institutions where they can continue their education and athletic careers.

During the first semester of their freshman year, student-athletes are required to complete academic placement tests in reading, writing and mathematics and enroll in a one-credit CCRI student success course. The program requires student-athletes to attend two, one-hour study sessions each week during the semester, including the off-season, at the college’s academic success centers. The Department of Athletics compliance officer schedules session times for each student-athlete and monitors their progress every five weeks during the semester. The program also provides daily academic advising, counseling and tutorials as well as transfer counseling.

Prospective student-athletes are encouraged to visit staff, coaches and advisors at CCRI’s Warwick and Lincoln campuses to learn more about the program and the college’s varsity teams. Call the Department of Athletics at 401-825-2114 for an appointment.

STUDENT-ATHLETES ACHIEVE ACADEMIC SUCCESS IN 2014–15

Many student-athletes were honored for their academic achievements in the 2014–15 academic year. Their successes included 27 student-athletes making the dean’s list in the fall and spring semesters. In addition, one earned a scholarship to Northeastern University and one earned a scholarship to Rollins College. Many others will be moving on to play sports at DII and DIII schools.

21 student-athletes from the Class of 2015 earned associate degrees, eight with honors. Additionally, 30 student-athletes will be transferring to four-year institutions like Northeastern University, Rollins College, Nova Southeastern University, Bridgewater State University, Wayland Baptist University, UMASS Dartmouth, Florida Memorial University, Regis College, University of Rhode Island, Rhode Island College and Johnson & Wales University.
AN OVERVIEW OF CCRI ATHLETICS
PAST AND PRESENT

The Community College of Rhode Island is home to one of the Ocean State’s finest and most successful intercollegiate athletic programs. Since its inception in 1965, the CCRI program has long been considered a front-runner in New England community college and junior college athletic circles.

The basketball, baseball, tennis, volleyball, cross country, golf and soccer teams have all been nationally ranked. The 2002 women’s soccer team captured the school’s first national championship, while a number of other squads, including men’s basketball and women’s soccer, were national runners-up. With nearly 5,400 victories, 213 All-Americans, 126 Region XXI championships and 819 All-Region selections, CCRI leads the way among all New England community colleges.

Great coaching has been the key to CCRI’s success. From the athletic department’s humble beginnings in 1965, the school has always featured legendary coaches. From Hall of Fame athletic director and men’s basketball coach Vin Cullen to baseball coaches Whitey Fell and Art Pontarelli, tennis coach Ray Carr and volleyball coach Gail Davis, the tradition of great coaches and top-flight teaching has extended through the years and continues through the present day.

The college holds membership in the National Junior College Athletic Association and is an associate member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

CCRI fields intercollegiate men’s teams in baseball, basketball, soccer, cross country, indoor and outdoor track and golf and intercollegiate women’s teams in volleyball, basketball, cross country, indoor and outdoor track, soccer and softball. The college has a coed tennis team.

The Community College of Rhode Island has proven to be a steppingstone for many student athletes who have moved on to complete their academic and athletic careers at four-year colleges and universities throughout the nation.

The men’s and women’s cross country teams are among CCRI’s most consistent, top-achieving athletic programs. The teams will be returning to the Division III level. National champion and record-setting runner Bobby Allen led the team through the transition to DI. Allen set a new NJCAA Division III record at the championship in 2011 of 25 minutes, 23.46 seconds on the road at Holyoke Community College on Holyoke, Mass. In 2012, Allen finished fifth at the Division I cross country nationals, becoming CCRI’s first Division I First Team Cross Country All-American. The men’s team has won six NJCAA Region XXI titles while several men’s and women’s runners have taken home NJCAA All-American, All-Region and All-Northeast honors. CCRI hosted the NJCAA Division III National Cross Country Meets in 2004 and 2008 at the Flanagan Campus in Lincoln where the team competes for home meets.
VOLLEYBALL

Head Coach Samantha Amaral

The CCRI women’s volleyball team has won 19 NJCAA Region XXI titles, which is the most regional championships of all CCRI athletic teams. The program has an overall record of 658-333 since it began in 1976. In 2008, the team won the district championship and earned a trip to the national tournament. Over the years, many NJCAA All-American, All-Region and All-District players have honed their skills at CCRI. Opportunities are provided for CCRI players to compete and travel to highly rated programs as far away as New Hampshire, Illinois and Maryland.
The CCRI men’s basketball team has a rich tradition of success with 18 Region XXI championships, consistent top 20 national rankings and an overall record of 957-434 since the program’s beginning in 1965. Many All-American and All-Region players have successfully transferred to NCAA Division I, II and III institutions. The Knights finished the best season in program history in 2012 year with a record 31 victories, five losses and a second-place finish at the NJCAA Division II Basketball Championship in Danville, Illinois. The Knights will look to return to Danville with the hopes of winning its first national title in program history. The team plays its home games in the Vincent A. Cullen Field House at the Knight Campus in Warwick.
Head Coach Brittany Brown
401-825-1131 • bsbrown1@ccri.edu

CCRI launched the CCRI women’s basketball program in 1977-78. Since then, the team has won 11 NJCAA Region XXI titles, made seven trips to the NJCAA National Tournament, including four Elite Eight and two Final Four appearances. Overall, the team has compiled a 526-372 record while competing in Division II. Women’s basketball competes at home in the Vincent A. Cullen Field House at the Knight Campus in Warwick.
CCRI’s men’s and women’s indoor track squads participate in many meets against four-year colleges throughout the Northeast. Team members benefit from that high level of competition as they prepare for the NJCAA Northeast District Championship and nationals. In 2012, middle distance runner Bobby Allen won the 3,000-meter run in a time of 8 minutes, 34.87 seconds, outkicking Division I sophomore Stanley Kebenei from Iowa Central Community College in the last lap. The two runners also competed in the mile run and Allen won in an impressive time of 4:14.93, outpacing Kebenei by .7 seconds. In 2013, Allen repeated as national champion in the 3,000-meter run and the mile, becoming CCRI’s first back-to-back national champion in those events. The teams practice at the Knight Campus in Warwick.
Head Coach Gregg Cornell

The chemistry and talent of cross country runners and indoor track athletes has produced great dividends for the outdoor track and field team in recent years. Along with the CCRI cross country teams the outdoor track teams will also be returning to the Division III level. In 2012, Bobby Allen won the 1,500-meter run at nationals, setting a national meet record of 3 minutes, 55.99 seconds. Also in 2012, Head Coach Gregg Cornell received Coach of the Year honors. In 2013, Allen's third-place finish in the 1,500-meter run in a CCRI record time earned him his ninth All-American honor, the most by any CCRI runner.
Head Coach James Stringfellow
401-825-1130 • jcstringfellow@ccri.edu

The CCRI men’s golf team has earned 17 NJCAA Region XXI Championships and compiled a 481-166-7 record since its first season in 1967. In 2015, the Knights finished eighth in the NJCAA Division III National Golf Tournament, with four golfers finishing in the top 50. This was the best finish at nationals in recent CCRI golf history. The team finished the 2015 season with a 6-0 record. Golfers frequently earn medals as well as All-American, All-Region and All-District honors. The team competes and practices at Cranston Country Club as its home course.
TENNIS

Head Coach TBD

The CCRI tennis program has produced 19 NJCAA Region XXI Division III tennis titles. The team finished the 2015 season with a 5-8 record and competed at the NJCAA Division III Tennis National Championship at Collin County Community College in Plano, Texas. In 2013, the Knights were led by Division III Player of the Year Ross Bouchard. In 2012, the Knights finished second at nationals with five players named All-American, including Nick Morin. Morin won the No. 6 singles championship making him CCRI’s first individual men’s tennis champion, and Mike Fallone was named Division III Player of the Year. Tim Holzinger narrowly missed All-American honors but won his final match and gave CCRI a crucial half point to edge out Nassau Community College and take second place.
Major league baseball scouts are drawn to Whitey Fell Field at the Knight Campus in Warwick for many reasons. CCRI’s baseball team is consistently a nationally ranked program and NJCAA Division II powerhouse, recruits top-flight talent, has won 11 NJCAA Region XXI titles and has cultivated future professional players such as Rheal Cormier, Allen Levrault, Brad Hertzler and Tom Gavitt. Head Coach Ken Hopkins, a former CCRI player and the all-time wins leader, has built a challenging program that includes fall ball against collegiate competition and preseason games against competition in Florida and North Carolina. In 2015, the team finished the season with a 17-15 record. In 2012 the Knights won the Region XXI and East district championships earning them a trip to the Division II World Series for the first time since 1996. The program continues to attract elite players from local, regional, national and even international ranks.
Head Coach Liz Afonso

The CCRI women’s softball program began in 1980 and the team has garnered a 388-337 record and 11 Region XXI championship victories. The 2015 season ended with 10 wins and 6 losses for the Lady Knights. The Lady Knights advanced to the District Championship versus Delaware Technical Community College after winning their ninth Region title in ten years.
