ABOUT CCRI/FACILITIES

ABOUT CCRI

The Community College of Rhode Island opened its doors in 1964 with 325 students in a temporary space on Promenade Street in Providence as Rhode Island Junior College. Today, with four campuses throughout the state, CCRI enrolls an average of more than 14,000 credit students each semester, making it the largest comprehensive community college in New England. Forty percent of its students identify themselves as part of a minority group, many of whom are the first in their families to attend college.

Accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, CCRI offers more than 100 degree and certificate programs in the arts, business, computer studies, engineering, health sciences, human services, liberal arts and science departments taught by faculty who are experts in their field. Each year, Rhode Islanders fill more than 40,000 seats in our professional development, skill enhancement, job retraining and noncredit personal enrichment courses offered by CCRI's Center for Workforce and Community Education.

CCRI students are active participants in campus life and in the community. The college offers a varsity athletic program with sports and a diverse selection of student clubs and organizations, including student government. Annually, students, faculty and staff volunteer for a variety of Rhode Island nonprofit organizations, making life better for those less fortunate.

Since its inception, CCRI has graduated more than 68,000 students, with 95 percent of them living and working in Rhode Island. The college is the No. 1 provider of nurses and other health care workers in the state. Annually, more than 1,000 CCRI students transfer to Rhode Island College and the University of Rhode Island to continue their education.

CCRI's tuition is the most affordable in Rhode Island. A full-time student pays about half, or less, of tuition and fees charged at any other college in the state. According to a recent survey given to exiting students, when graduates were asked, "Would you recommend CCRI to a friend or family member?" nearly 99 percent said yes. By preparing students for continued education or to enter the state's work force, the Community College of Rhode Island provides its students with the opportunity to change their lives and achieve their dreams.

CCRI ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Knight Campus 400 East Ave., Warwick

The CCRI Knight Campus is home to the Vincent A. Cullen Field House with four basketball courts, four tennis courts, three volleyball courts and a fully-equipped weight room. The men's and women's basketball teams play their home games on the center wood court. Athletic Department administration, coaches and staff have offices at this location.

The CCRI baseball team plays its home games at Harold "Whitey" Fell Field, named in honor of the college's former head baseball coach.

The Knight Campus has two additional outdoor fields for team practice and recreational use.

Flanagan Campus 1762 Louisquisset Pike, Lincoln

The CCRI Flanagan Campus has a field house with four basketball courts, four tennis courts, four volleyball courts, a six-lane swimming pool, an indoor track, a modern dance studio and a fully-equipped weight room. The women's volleyball team plays its home matches in the Flanagan Campus Field House. Athletic Department administration, coaches and staff have offices at this location.

The Flanagan Campus has several outdoor fields for team practice and competition as well as recreational use. The cross country team and the men's and women's soccer teams host their home meets and matches at this site.

Additional sites

Some CCRI teams play their home games at nearby off-campus locations. The softball team plays its home games at Winslow Park Field in Warwick and the golf team competes and practices at Cranston Country Club. The coed tennis team and the indoor and outdoor track teams travel to their opponent's site or a neutral site for matches.

MISSION OF THE CCRI ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

The Community College of Rhode Island Department of Athletics, Physical Education and Recreation, an integral part of the curriculum, is dedicated to each physical education student and student-athlete. CCRI provides a high quality, nationally acclaimed and accredited program that promotes academic and athletic excellence. The college excels in sportsmanship, team play and competitive spirit while providing a strong academic foundation and support program.

CCRI'S STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM (SAASP)

The Student-Athlete Academic Support Program at the Community College of Rhode Island provides a support system for academic success in college. This mandatory program prepares student-athletes for transfer to four-year institutions where they can continue their education and athletic careers.

During the first semester of their freshman year, student-athletes are required to complete academic placement tests in reading, writing and mathematics and enroll in a one-credit CCRI student success course. The program requires student-athletes to attend two, one-hour study sessions each week during the semester, including the off-season, at the college's academic success centers. The Department of Athletics compliance officer schedules session times for each student-athlete and monitors their progress every five weeks during the semester. The program also provides daily academic advising, counseling and tutorials as well as transfer counseling.

Prospective student-athletes are encouraged to visit staff, coaches and advisors at CCRI's Warwick and Lincoln campuses to learn more about the program and the college's varsity teams. Call the Department of Athletics at 401-825-2114 for an appointment.

STUDENT-ATHLETES ACHIEVE ACADEMIC SUCCESS IN 2018-19

Eight CCRI student-athletes and one alumnus (pictured below) were honored for their academic achievements in the 2018-19 academic year at the 2019 Scholar-Athlete Awards Reception hosted by Speaker Nicholas A. Mattiello and the Rhode Island House of Representatives at the Rhode Island State House in May.

These awards are given annually to exceptional student-athletes who are leaders on and off the field and have demonstrated success in academics and athletics. Among the honorees were softball and soccer standout Samantha Muller, who also earned CCRI's Distinguished Female Athlete Award, and basketball star David Cabeceiras, who earned the college's Charlie Wilkes Scholarship Award.

A number of student-athletes will be transferring to four-year institutions like Rhode Island College, University of Rhode Island, Tusculum University, Bryant University, Virginia State University, Elms College, Albertus Magnus College, Southern Connecticut State University and Keene State University.

AN OVERVIEW OF CCRI ATHLETICS PAST AND PRESENT

The Community College of Rhode Island is home to one of the Ocean State's finest and most successful intercollegiate athletic programs. Since its inception in 1965, the CCRI program has long been considered a front-runner in New England community college and junior college athletic circles.

The basketball, baseball, tennis, volleyball, cross country, golf and soccer teams have all been nationally ranked. The 2002 women's soccer team captured the school's first national championship, while a number of other squads, including men's basketball and women's soccer, were national runners-up. With nearly 5,500 victories, 222 All-Americans, 127 Region XXI championships and 828 All-Region selections, CCRI leads the way among all New England community colleges.

Great coaching has been the key to CCRI's success. From the athletic department's humble beginnings in 1965, the school has always featured legendary coaches. From Hall of Fame athletic director and men's basketball coach Vin Cullen to baseball coaches Ken Hopkins, Whitey Fell and Art Pontarelli, tennis coach Ray Carr and volleyball coach Gail Davis, the tradition of great coaches and top-flight teaching has extended through the years and continues through the present day.

The college holds membership in the National Junior College Athletic Association and is an associate member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

CCRI fields intercollegiate men's teams in baseball, basketball, soccer, cross country, indoor and outdoor track and golf and intercollegiate women's teams in volleyball, basketball, cross country, indoor and outdoor track, soccer and softball. In addition to our intercollegiate sports CCRI offers four sports at the club level: men's volleyball, swimming, women's beach volleyball and eSports.

The Community College of Rhode Island has proven to be a steppingstone for many student athletes who have moved on to complete their academic and athletic careers at four-year colleges and universities throughout the nation.

SEASON OUTLOOK

Following a shortened season in 2018 that featured only six games, the Knights are looking to reclaim their throne as one of the top programs in the northeast in Division I NJCAA women's soccer.

This year's group includes five returnees from 2018 paired with five top-line recruits to strengthen the lineup.

Captain Ariana Douglas (East Greenwich, R.I.) will be leaned upon heavily this year, not only as a leader, but as a versatile player with the ability to patrol midfield or shift to the back line to secure the Knights' defense. Another team leader, goalkeeper Maddie Brassard (Pawtucket, R.I.) is an excellent presence in net and will keep opponents at bay as CCRI looks to strengthen its defense in 2019.

Joining Douglas and Brassard are Lailah Insisiengmay (Woonsocket, R.I.) a talented midfielder who has a nose for the ball and always finds herself in the middle of the action, and Caysie Gautreau (Burrillville, R.I.), a winger and wide-attacking player with the ability and versatility to both provide offense on her own and get her teammates involved. The final returnee is Veronica Lopez (Providence, R.I.), who will play midfield and provide depth and leadership.

Joining the talented sophomores will be five high-impact freshmen looking to help the Knights get to the next level. This group is led by McKenna Leahy (Warwick, R.I.), a forward and midfielder who was a heavily-recruited player with goal-scoring ability and the vision to set others up to score. Midfielder and back Monique DaFonseca (Providence, R.I.)

is an extremely athletic player who can cover the entire field penalty box to penalty box. Center back Juliana Capraro (Foster, R.I.) will look to anchor the defense as a tough-nosed, athletic defender who reads the game extremely well.

Winger Giulia Marsella (Warwick, R.I.) is an energetic attacking player who will look to provide offense for the Knights. Rounding out the high-impact freshmen is Brianna Jarrett (Westerly, R.I.), a defender who has a physical presence and ability to slow down the opponents' attacks. Joining them will be Jezz Nunes (Warren, R.I.), a talented forward who will provide speed and athleticism at the top of the offense, and freshman Adriana Lima (Pawtucket, R.I.), who will help out in the midfield both defensively and by getting the ball transitioned to the Knights' scoring threats up top.

McKenna Leahy

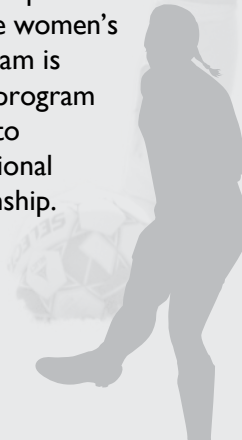

DID YOU KNOW?

The Lady Knights reached the NJCAA Division I National Championship in 2009 led by All-Americans Melody Lawrence at goalkeeper and Steph Morse in the midfield.

The team won the National Championship in 2002 and finished as runner-up in 2003. The women's soccer team is the only program at CCRI to win a national championship.

Since its first season in 1994, the team has compiled a 300-105-16 record, including 17 Region XXI Championships and five district championships.

COACHING STAFF

Jim McGirr Head Coach

Jim McGirr returns to CCRI for his third year as head coach after leading the Knights to a 3-3 record in 2018. Despite a shorter season due to injuries and postponements, CCRI is heading in the right direction under McGirr's guidance.

McGirr boasts 17 years of Division I NCAA coaching experience, including stints at Providence College, University of Rhode Island, Villanova University, Rutgers University, Loyola University Maryland and Lafayette College.

Most recently, he served as an assistant coach at Loyola University, where he was in charge of recruiting and responsible for organizing and coaching, in-season daily training, functional training, team strategy and match preparation. He also helped with education and preparation through video analysis.

While at Loyola, the Greyhounds were a 2014 Patriot League quarter-finalist and 2015 semifinalist. Before Loyola, he was a volunteer assistant at the University of Rhode Island for a year and previously served as the head coach for the Providence College women's soccer program for eight seasons. While at PC, he trained and developed five different Big East All-Conference players and reached the quarterfinals of the 2011 Big East Tournament. The Friars also earned NCAA Public Recognition Awards for academic performance in 2005, 2007, 2008, 2010, 2011 and 2012. In addition, McGirr's teams achieved a 100-percent graduation rate through mandatory team study halls and weekly academic player meetings.

McGirr also has an extensive club soccer background spanning two decades. For the past two years, he has coached in the New England Futbol Club as head coach of the U13 and U15 girls and U14 boys teams in addition to serving as the assistant administrator in charge of organizing and coordinating all holiday soccer clinics. He also has served as head coach of the Elite Clubs National League as head coach and trainer of the Scorpions Soccer Club from 2011 to 2013. He also worked on the regional staff as coach and trainer of the Rhode Island Olympic Development Program from 2006 to 2009.

In college, McGirr was a defender on the soccer team at Division I Rider University in New Jersey, where he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology in 1992. He earned his Premier Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America and is licensed in United Soccer Federation "B." McGirr resides in Smithfield, R.I., with his wife Erin, who also has an athletic background as a former two-sport athlete at Rutgers University in track and soccer. He enjoys boating and golfing in his free time.

Mike Trudeau Associate Coach

Mike Trudeau returns to CCRI for his second year as an assistant coach.

Trudeau has 25 years of coaching experience at various levels from youth to high school to college. He also coached in the Rhode Island Special Olympics development program.

Trudeau has coached both male and female teams during his career and specializes in goal-keeper training. He holds coaching certifications with the United States Soccer Federation with a National D License and National Soccer Coaches Association of America Level 1 and 2 Goalkeeping Diplomas. Some of the programs he has worked with include Bruno United FC, Johnson & Wales University, Bryant University and Bishop Hendricken High School.

Trudeau is a graduate of Franklin Pierce University, where he played as a Division II goalkeeper on a team that ranked as high as No. 4 nationally and finished as a national semi-finalist in 1991. He currently resides in West Warwick, R.I.

2018 SEASON SUMMARY

With injuries and weather postponements throughout the year, the 2018 women's soccer season lasted just six games for CCRI.

The Knights finished 3-3, starting with an impressive, 14-0 win over Bunker Hill Community College in their season opener in which Kat Raposo set a new single-game record with seven goals.

Following a loss to American International College, the Knights bounced back with a 1-0 win over Central Maine Community College in which Sam Muller scored the lone goal to secure the victory.

CCRI's up-and-down season continued with a 2-0 loss to Southern Maine Community College followed by yet another 1-0 win, this time against Region XXI rival Holyoke Community College. Raposa, the team MVP in 2018, scored the game-winner.

Despite the myriad of cancellations, the Knights showed promise under head coach Jim McGirr and played competitively throughout the season.

SEASON OUTLOOK

With two All-Region XXI performers returning from their 2018 team, the Knights hope to improve upon last year's 2-8-1 record.

Goalkeeper Juan Gonzalez (Providence, R.I.) and center back Jake Leander (West Warwick, R.I.), each of whom earned All-Region XXI honors a year ago, will serve as team captains in 2019 and provide a solid defensive base for the Knights in addition to much-needed leadership on a team with 14 incoming freshmen.

Also returning this year are five sophomores: defender Anthony Serluca (Westerly, R.I.), midfielder David Restrepo (Providence, R.I.), midfielder Koren Barrios (Pawtucket, R.I.), forward Cornelius Tay (Monrovia, Liberia) and forward Delpio Alves (East Providence, R.I.). All five sophomores contributed in their freshman seasons for the Knights and will look to elevate their game as they get even more playing time as upperclassmen in 2019. They will assist the Knights' captains to provide leadership.

This year's freshman class is led by two 2018 Rhode Island Interscholastic League boys' soccer All-Division standouts: goalkeeper Ednilson Tavares (Pawtucket, R.I.) and midfielder Lucas Patrone (Johnston, R.I.). Both players are talented and are definitely in the mix in 2019, but will have to prove themselves at the college level to earn significant playing time. Other freshmen that will see a good amount of playing time include defenders Isnaba Namusse (Pawtucket, R.I.), Buba Joof (Woonsocket, R.I.) and Rodry Alves (Pawtucket, R.I.). All three will help solidify the Knights' defensive back line in front of Gonzalez in net.

Helping in the midfield will be Adelmo Intrieri (Westerly, R.I.), Cristian Grande (Providence, R.I.), Juan Garcia (Guatemala City, Guatemala) and Osiel Moreno (Providence, R.I.). All four have good skill sets and will look to help on both ends of the field.

Up front, the Knights will look for a spark from Jose Orozco (Pawtucket, R.I.) and Paul Sayles Perez (Westerly, R.I.), both of whom have excellent talent and athleticism and should provide scoring opportunities for the Knights. Rounding out the squad will be midfielders Josh Salinas (Providence, R.I.) and Josh Pineda Rodriguez (Pawtucket, R.I.) and goalkeeper Nikolai Zakrzewski (East Providence, R.I.).

COACHING STAFF

Gabriel Toro Head Coach

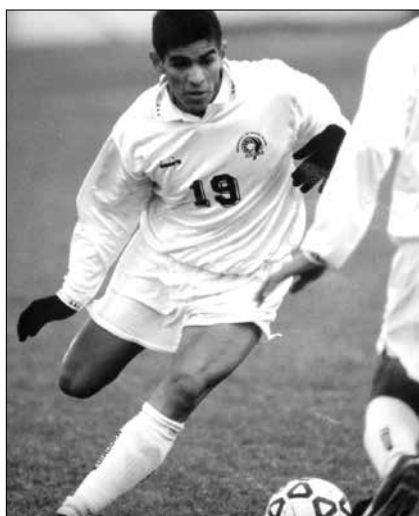

Gabriel Toro returns for his 11th year as head coach of the CCRI men's soccer program after guiding the Knights to a 2-8-1 finish in 2018. He previously served as assistant coach of the program for two years under Victor Gaspar. Toro, a native of Colombia and a 1999 graduate of the University of Rhode Island, strives to continue the program's winning tradition.

In addition to his coaching experience at CCRI, Toro has organized and coached clinics in Rhode Island and Massachusetts for boys and girls of all ages, with a focus on eliminating technical weaknesses and enhancing players' strengths to improve their confidence and technical skills. In 2001, he led the Tolman High School boys' soccer team to a second-place finish in the state tournament.

Toro has extensive playing experience with the semi-pro Lusitana Portuguese Club in Cumberland and the Providence Soccer League. After graduating from URI with a bachelor's degree in psychology, he played three seasons for the Rhode Island Stingrays. At URI, he was a member of the

No. 3-ranked men's team that garnered a record of 19-1-3 and won Atlantic-10 championship titles in 1995 and 1996. He was honored with the Bob Butler Sportsmanship Award in 1998.

Gabriel Toro played three seasons for the University of Rhode Island.

Mike Jerue Assistant Coach

Mike Jerue returns for his 10th year as assistant coach and his seventh with coach Toro's staff; he was previously the assistant to former men's soccer coach Victor Gaspar. Jerue played at CCRI in 1999 and is a former Region XXI championship goalkeeper.

A former teammate of Toro's with the Lusitana Portuguese Club, Jerue has extensive training and knowledge playing both semi-pro and professional soccer. He has more than 30 years of experience with goalkeepers, which is his main focus on the coaching staff. He is also the co-founder of the MK Goalkeeping Academy in West Warwick. Jerue has coached at many levels, ranging from youth to high school to college. He recently began his third year as a coach for the North American Soccer League's Rhode Island Reds FC.

Rafal Murawski Assistant Coach

Rafal Murawski returns for his second year as an assistant coach for the CCRI men's soccer program.

A longtime professional standout in Poland and England, Murawski began playing at 5 years old. His talent was evident at a young age by his peers in Lezajsk, Poland, and he was soon drafted onto the town's competitive youth teams at the age of 9. He eventually rose through the ranks and competed on a number of all-star teams in Poland between the ages of 13 and 16.

By the time Murawski was a young teenager, he was fully dedicated to developing his soccer career and he moved away from his family to complete his high school education at a soccer school in Krakow, Poland, where he was coached by professionals and learned unique special training techniques.

After completing soccer school, Murawski played at the semi-professional and professional level for nine years on third- and fourth-division teams in Poland and England. His soccer career lasted more than two decades and ended in 2015 following a series of injuries.

Overall record: 2-8-1

Region XXI: 1-4

2018 SEASON SUMMARY

The men's soccer team struggled offensively in 2018 and finished with a 2-8-1 record, including 1-4 in Region XXI play.

The Knights scored just 10 goals in 11 games with freshmen Prince Sawyer (Pawtucket, R.I.) and Austin Degiacomo (Westerly, R.I.) leading the team with two goals apiece. Sawyer also had an assist for five total points while Degiacomo finished 2018 as the team-leader with six total points, including a pair of assists.

The midfield was anchored by sophomore co-captain Mouhamadou Diouf (Dakar, Senegal) who filled in at almost every position throughout the season, while freshman wide-man Delpio Alves (East Providence, R.I.) provided great service all season and tallied two assists from the flanks in 2018, tying him for the team lead in that category with Degiacomo.

In between the posts for the Knights, wearing No. 0, freshman Juan Gonzalez (Providence, R.I.) started eight of the 11 games for CCRI and racked up a total of 74 saves, which led the region. He also finished with a .779 save percentage and registered one shutout in eight appearances.

CCRI's versatile defensive unit of sophomore co-captain Dante Turano (Westerly, R.I.), freshman Jake Leander (West Warwick, R.I.), Elton Soares Sequiera (Central Falls, R.I.) and Anthony Serluca (Westerly, R.I.) combined for 42 appearances and held strong in the face of the high-quality attacks they faced all season.

Gonzalez, Sawyer, Leander and Diouf earned spots on the 2018 Division I All-Region XXI Soccer team. The Knights fell just short of the Region XXI Championship, losing to Massasoit 5-2 in the final game of the regular season.

SEASON OUTLOOK

The Knights are looking to build upon head coach Pat Chin's first season at the helm in which he led the team to a respectable 11-13 record in 2018 against a tough national schedule.

This year, the goal is to win a district championship and secure a berth to the 2019 NJCAA Volleyball National Championship in Charleston, W.V., in November.

The Knights have two players returning from their 2018 squad: Outside hitters Yelianny Soto-Reyes (Providence, R.I.) and Manuela Restrepo (Central Falls, R.I.). The two will be looked upon as key members of the 2019 team while providing leadership to a talented group of eight incoming freshmen teammates.

Headlining the list of incoming freshmen is First Team All-Division setter Gabriella Blumenstock (Warwick, R.I.), who played at Pilgrim High School. Blumenstock will be joined by her former Pilgrim teammate and middle hitter Marilyn McKay (Warwick, R.I.). CCRI will benefit from its established chemistry as the new players grow into their roles.

Also joining the Knights in 2019 is Alexis Baffoni (Coventry, R.I.), a talented outside hitter from perennial volleyball power Coventry High. Sydney Trudeau (Cumberland, R.I.) will also look to provide kills from the outside hitter position. Mia Shola (North Kingstown, R.I.), who played for the defending Rhode Island State Champions North Kingstown High School, will play libero for CCRI and contribute defensively. Rounding out this year's team is defensive specialist Makayla Lorusso (Woonsocket, R.I.), setter Joanna Wong (Cranston, R.I.) and defensive specialist Libby Reyes (Providence, R.I.).

The Knights have the talent and leadership to achieve their goal of winning the district and returning to the NJCAA Division II National Championship. The goal is to play as a cohesive unit and continue to improve with each game and practice.

DID YOU KNOW?

The CCRI women's team has won 19 NJCAA Region XXI titles, which is the most regional championships of any CCRI athletic team.

Since its first season in 1976, the program has an overall record of 729-361.

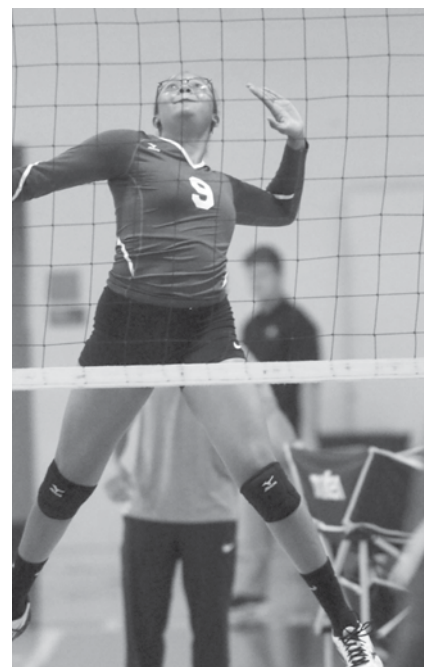

In 2016 the Lady Knights won the District Championship over Harcum College and earned a trip to the national tournament for the first time since 2008.

COACHING STAFF

Patrick Chin Head Coach

Patrick Chin returns to the program for his second season as head Coach in 2019 after leading the Knights to an 11-13 record a year ago.

The Lady Knights played well despite a young roster learning a new system under Chin, but expect to improve in 2019.

Prior to CCRI, Chin served as the assistant volleyball coach for the Cranston High School East girls' team, which won the Division II State Championship. He also served as the boys' and girls' assistant coach at Toll Gate High School from 2013 to 2016. In addition to coaching at the high school level, Chin is also a boys' and girls' coach for the Rhode Island Blast club volleyball 16U and 18U teams. He brings a wealth of experience both on and off the court; he played for the University of Rhode Island's club volleyball team and is currently a member of the Boston Hurricane 9-man volleyball team that competes in the North American Chinese Invitational Volleyball Tournament.

Chin resides in Warwick, R.I.

John Dao Assistant Coach

John Dao joins the CCRI women's volleyball coaching staff in his first year as an assistant. Dao brings a wealth of volleyball knowledge to the table for the Knights as a former player in several leagues, including Yankee Volleyball, Newport Volleyball, Bristol Volleyball Club, Blue Fish Bowl, Gators Pub league, Sticks Volleyball, Intramural Volleyball in college and Spikedown. He has also worked with youth as a camp counselor for the YMCA. Both his knowledge of volleyball and experience with youth student activities will be valued commodities for CCRI.

Dao lives in Warwick, R.I., and works at CCRI as an Enrollment Services Representative.

Post match handshake.

2018 SEASON SUMMARY

The Knights had a strong, but somewhat inconsistent, first season under new head coach Pat Chin, finishing 11-13 overall despite a young roster forced to develop quickly and learn to play as a cohesive unit in a new system.

The team enjoyed several noteworthy victories in the first half of the season, including a 3-1 win over district rival Harcum College and two wins over perennial powerhouse Howard College by 3-0 and 3-1 scores. The Knights also shut out Southern Maryland twice, 3-0, and earned shutouts against the Community College of Beaver County, CCBC Essex and Word of Life Bible School.

In addition to the big time national victories they had the Lady Knights also fared very well versus Region XXI. CCRI defeated MassBay Community College, 3-0, Bunker Hill CC, 3-0, and Northern Essex CC, 3-0.

Captain and team MVP Sam Elkas stood out the most in 2018. Undoubtedly the team's leader on and off the court, Elkas commanded respect with her performance and attitude and finished the season with 96 kills, 31 aces, 35 digs, and 21 solo blocks for 149 total points.

No one scored more points than Ivelisse Serrano, who led the team with 133 kills, 49 aces, and 199 digs while also adding nine blocks for a team-high 191 points. Setter Danielle D'Andrea was another key component to the team's success as she directed the offense with 445 assists while also adding 134 digs, 24 kills and 34 aces. Jasharilee Diaz added 100 kills, eight aces and five solo blocks for 113 total points.
