Physical Therapy

Jason Harvey MSPT is the Chief Operations Officer and Co-owner of Elite Physical Therapy, Inc. Elite Physical Therapy is a private practice with locations throughout Rhode Island. Elite Physical Therapy was voted the Nation's "Best PT Practice of the Year" in 2009. They also won the Providence Business News "Business Excellence Award" for a mid-size company in 2012 and the "Best Places to Work Award" in 2014, 2015, and 2016. Jason and his business partner Michael Nula PT, DPT have built a practice that pays attention to detail while offering the highest level of expert orthopedic care through constant collaboration, mentoring, and continuing education. In 2016, they co-authored a book titled The First Step: Pain-free living and better health through Expert Physical Therapy.

Jason received the 40 under 40 award by the Providence Business News in 2014. He serves as the President of the Rhode Island American Physical Therapy Association where he fought legislation targeted to take away licensure of Physical Therapist Assistants and eliminate the Independent State Board of Physical Therapy. Prior to becoming President, Jason served as the Chapter Vice-President and Membership Chair. Jason graduated from Northeastern University in Boston, MA with a Master of Science Degree in Physical Therapy, where he also ran Track and Field.

Jason and his wife Michelle have twins (Nolan and Isabella). Jason has also coached the Elite Physical Therapy Co-ed Softball Team to 4 consecutive Championship appearances with two titles to show for it. He also coaches his son's AAU, Tournament, and Recreation baseball teams as well as his winter Basketball Recreation team. He loves all the Boston sports teams and has an unrivaled passion for his lawn.

Opening in 2002, Elite Physical Therapy has quickly become one of the largest Physical Therapy firms in New England expanding into several beautiful locations throughout Rhode Island.
