

COMMUNITY COLLEGE
OF RHODE ISLAND

Office of Enrollment Services

Dear Applicant:

Thank you for your interest in the Community College of Rhode Island. Recently you submitted an Application for Enrollment to our institution. Because we were unable to determine from your application that you have been a resident of Rhode Island for at least one year, we assessed your tuition at the out-of-state rate. If, however, you submit proof of one year of Rhode Island residency as a dependent or independent student, we will adjust your tuition to reflect the in-state rate the following term. For the purpose of determining in-state and out-of-state classifications, the word "residency" shall mean domicile: the legal, documented, true and permanent home and place of habitation. For the unemancipated (dependent) student, the domicile will be that of the parents and/or guardians. For the emancipated (independent) student, the domicile will be that of the student.

For proof of residency, the term independent student refers to a student who has reached the age of 18 years and whose parents or guardians have entirely surrendered the right to the care and custody and earnings of such student; have not claimed the student as a dependent for tax purposes for two years; do not provide regular financial assistance to the student; and whose income was not taken into account by any agency furnishing financial education assistance to the student including scholarships, loans or otherwise. If any of these areas are not met, the student will be considered a dependent student.

If you are claiming recognition as an independent student (emancipated), please provide the following:

- A signed copy of your federal income tax return for the most recent year.
- A current rental lease (or utility bills) covering your residency at the address listed on your CCRI Application for Enrollment showing one year of occupancy. If formal leases are unavailable, a notarized statement or receipts from the landlord for one year may be substituted.
- Your Rhode Island driver's license and vehicle registration with an issue date that is at least one year prior to the first day of classes.
- If you are younger than 24, provide copies of your parents' federal income tax return transcripts for the last two year or a notarized statement from your parents stating that you were not claimed as a dependent on their federal income tax return for the last two years and they have no intention of such claim in the future.

If you are claiming recognition as a dependent student (unemancipated), please provide the following:

- A photocopy of your parents' latest Rhode Island state income tax return.
- A signed copy of your parents' federal income tax return for the most recent year.
- Your parents' current rental lease (or utility bills) or evidence of property ownership indicating residency at the address listed on your CCRI Application for Enrollment showing one year of occupancy.
- Both parents' Rhode Island driver's licenses and vehicle registrations with issue dates that are at least one year prior to the first day of classes.

In addition to submitting documents listed above, complete all sections of the Application for In-State Residency along with your signature and date. You are also welcome to use page 3 to write an appeal letter to the CCRI Residency Appeals Board. Please submit by the deadline listed below to the Office of Enrollment Services at any CCRI location.

Sincerely,

Cathy Tessier
Director of Records
