

Audrey Vicente

Candidate for Vice President

What makes you the best candidate for Student Government Vice President to represent all CCRI students?

I think that I would be the best candidate for the Student Government Vice President to represent all of the student at CCRI because of the fact that I would listen to all of the students options and show that I truly care about their needs. And I would also work to develop a clear platform with specific goals and initiatives that address the needs and desires of the students. That could involve improving facilities, organizing events, and also advocating for some changes.

What leadership roles have you been apart of and how would your experiences aid in leading the Student Government team?

I have been apart of running a food drive for the homeless and I think that the experiences that I have gained from helping out the homeless (some of the skills like effective communication, research, presenting ideas, organizing a food drive) can all be developed and honed through student government.

How do you plan on executing Student Government's mission throughout your vice presidency, if chosen? Give examples of ideas you'd like to put forward.

I would plan on executing the Student Government's mission by presenting some new ideas to the student body, and also by promoting citizenship, scholarship, leadership and also the human relations and cultural values. And also use some of the skills that I have learned from being in the Student Government which is how to delegate tasks, resolve conflicts, and provide an inclusive environment.

The reason why I joined the Student Government in the first place was because of the fact that I wanted to learn how to communicate better since I am not really good at communicating with people and so, to me, communication skills are essential for any leader. Not just for myself but as a student government member, you need to be able to clearly articulate your ideas and listen to others people's perspectives.
